

BELONG

Music / Lyrics: Noam Katz

Hebrew text: Mishna, Sanhedrin 4:5

written in loving memory of Allie Rae Edelsberg z"l

No matter who you are
No matter why you came here
No matter what brought you into this place

No matter who you are
No matter what's your story
No matter all the trials that you face

You are here
You are whole
You belong

No matter if you speak
No matter if you're silent
No matter if the words don't come out right

No matter who you love
No matter how your love shows
No matter what keeps you awake at night

You are seen
You are heard
You belong

Ein echad mei-hen
Domeh la'chavero - oh - oh
Ain't no one like you or me
But for us the world was created
And we, we belong

No matter what you seek
No matter who you pray to
No matter how the light shines off your skin

No matter how you move
No matter what moves through you
No matter how you let the light shine in

You are here
You are whole
You are seen
You are heard
You belong

Ein echad mei-hen
Domeh la'chavero - oh - oh
Ain't no one like you or me
But for us the world was created
And we, we belong

Bridge:

You be strong, you belong (2x)
(Continue singing these lines under the rest of Bridge)

I was made in Your image, and you were cast in mine
Each one of us different, yet each one is Divine
And if I should forget why and where that I belong...
Bishvili nivra ha-olam

No matter who you are

No matter who you are
Or who you are becoming
What matters -- you are filled with love and grace

You are here, You are whole
You are seen, You are heard
You're the only one of you in the world (and)

You belong
You belong
We belong
