

Elective 1 Appendix A-

Scenarios:

#1 Your camper can't find their favorite water bottle in the cabin and the next thing you know, they're walking around the cabin accusing different people of having taken it from them. The camper is visibly upset and shouting at their cabin mates.

#2 Your cabin is filled with talkative and excited campers with the exception of one quiet camper who is always off to the side and never seems to be with the group. You've asked some of the campers to include him but they say that camper is weird and only talks about video games.

#3 One of your campers panics on a high element at the ropes course. As one of the staff members is trying to talk him down, some of the campers waiting start calling them "wimp" and telling them not to be so scared.

#4 You and your campers are chatting and hanging out in the cabin when one of your campers walks in and says "I've been wondering, what are those things that are on every door here at camp?" Your other campers become silent and some nervously giggle. One camper says "I can't believe you don't know what those are dummy!"
